

Ashridge confirmed as one of the world's top business schools

The Financial Times today (19 May 2003) published its executive education rankings. We got one of our highest rankings ever for our tailored business: coming 2nd in the UK, 14th in the world. We have also maintained our good position in open programmes (33rd in the world). In the overall rankings for open and tailored combined, we came 2nd in the UK, 9th in Europe and 25th in the world.

This good news coupled with the recent coverage of Ashridge winning a major contract with the BBC, has firmly placed Ashridge amongst the world's leading business schools.

The rankings are based on the whole executive education experience and they are becoming increasingly important for our reputation. Clients who come to Ashridge know they are getting the best, but it is great when the world's leading financial newspaper also says the same.
